DATA SCIENTIST INTERVIEWS

HIRING PROCESS

COMMON
(but tough)
BEHAVIORAL
QUESTIONS

Introductions

Why do you want to work here?

Why are you leaving your current job?

What has been your most negative management experience?

What is your expected salary?

I would need to learn more about the specific duties required of this position, which I look forward to learning more about.

I do understand that positions similar to this pay in the range of $X to $Z.

With my experience, skills, and certifications, I would expect to receive something in the range of $Y to $Z.

I am very open to discussing these numbers with you.

- Incentives
- Working hours
- Benefits
- Location
- Growth opportunities

In your own words, what is data science?

Tell me about a data science project that you did. What algorithm did you use and what were the results?

What is your favorite programming language? Why?

How do you clean data?

Explain Decision Tree algorithm in detail.

SMART QUESTIONS TO ASK AFTER THE INTERVIEW

"Yes, I do have a few questions for you — but before I get into those, I am wondering if I've sufficiently answered all of your questions. Would you like me to explain anything further or give any examples?"

What would my day-to-day routine look like if I got the job?

What are the challenges of this position?

What would be the ideal starting date for this position?

NOW, WHAT?

SURELY A RESPONSE WILL COME

I JUST HAVE TO WAIT PATIENTLY...

quickmeme.com